Employee of the Year

Sara Chamberlin was recently recognized by her peers as the Ferry County Public Hospital District's Employee of the Year for going above and beyond to make the District and community a better place to work and live. Sara was previously selected as the employee of the fourth quarter, 2015, for her problem solving and willingness to help whenever needed. Sara is one of the most dedicated, positive, hardworking, calm, and compassionate people at the District, and it is a pleasure to work with her. She always has a smile on her face and is always willing to help wherever needed. Sara is a great asset to the Republic Medical Clinic, and the District feels very fortunate to have her on our team. Sara has been with the District as a Clinic RN for seven years.

Our Employee of the Quarter program from which Sara was one of four selected employees has allowed staff to recognize within them, those employees demonstrating distinction in dedication and service to the District and community.

The Employee of the Year is an individual that truly makes a difference with their distinguishing actions and good deeds. This employee is a role model for us all, exemplifying dedication and excellence in performance at the District, leading by example with their exceptional team work, and promoting growth and advancement through innovative thinking and problem solving. high bar of excellence, and motivates others to reach new heights in their development as well. We implemented our employee recognition program to not only reward our outstanding employees, but also motivate and empower them. With the success of this program, we are confident that our enthusiasm and dedication to improving the District and community by our employees will only continue to grow.
